Announcements from the floor:

Madeline announced there will be Christmas caroling this year and a signup sheet will be posted.

Doris Dame says there will be signup sheets for the Christmas dinner groups. The park will supply turkeys and hams.

JoAnne Higgs said she will post a list for people to indicate any activities they might be interested in attending or doing. She states that if there is enough interest in a cruise, she might get something going for next year.

Sandy Robinson mentioned many music things going on nearby. She also mentioned an event at the local museum about pioneer women in the valley. She has everything posted on her board in the card room.

Joe Moore states that Dec. 23 is the final day to submit anything for the Jan. newsletter. He requests if you have had any changes in address or phone number please let him know. Joe also found several 9 volt batteries in the bin that did not have their terminals covered. This is a fire hazard as the batteries have been known to short out.

Marion and Madeline are asking for people to help them sell raffle tickets. They will be setting up tables after the new year.

Sunshine lady announced four more cards are on the table waiting to be signed.

Health: Don says there will be a blood drive this Thur. Dec. 15. Please sign up and show up. There will be a complete cholesterol screen done at the same time.

Kitchen: Bev asks that if you leave anything in the kitchen you wish to keep, put your name and a date on it. Anything not marked is considered available for anyone who wants it.

Leisure World asked for three volunteers to judge their Christmas decorations. Ron Geiger, Judy Williams and John Kujda volunteered.

Be sure to look at the Christmas decorations and make your choices for the winners.

Ron Watson announced there will be a Sunday brunch on Dec. 18.
